

Ángela Pérez
Chair and CEO

Ángela is a senior professional with more than thirty years of experience in the design, execution, and management of complex financial operations in international markets.

Since July of last year, she has served as Chair and Chief Executive Officer of COFIDES, the Spanish state majority-owned financial institution that partners with the private sector to foster sustainable and impactful investments. COFIDES is well known to her, as she was Chief Investment Officer from 2000 to 2010.

Before returning to COFIDES, she spent 15 years as Head of Structured Finance and Asset Management at ELECNOR, a leading multinational company in the infrastructure and energy sectors where she led multiple deals across different continents.

Ángela began her professional career as an investment banker at BZW in London and spent a total of ten years working within the Barclays Group.

She holds a degree in Economics and Business Administration from the Universidad Complutense de Madrid and completed the PADE Executive Program at IESE Business School, University of Navarra.