

Short Bio – Cristina Miranda Gozávez

Institution: European Commission – Directorate-General for International Partnerships (DG INTPA)

Position: Head of Unit “Sustainable Agri-Food Systems and Fisheries”

Agriculture Engineer – Specialisation in agricultural economy and rural sociology- University of Cordoba (Spain) - Graduated with honours – with complementary internship education in two EU universities:

Institut National Agronomique de Paris-Grignon INA (France) and the Faculty of Bioscience Engineering of the University of Ghent (Belgium)

Master on “European Communities” by the Diplomatic School of Madrid (Spain)

With more than two decades working in the European Commission, Cristina Miranda-Gozávez has worked in three different Directorate-General, always dealing with international affairs. Current working at the Directorate General for International Partnerships as Head of Unit “Sustainable Agri-Food Systems and Fisheries” and previously, in the Directorate-General for Trade as Head of Unit “Africa, Caribbean and Pacific” and the Directorate-General for Agriculture and Rural Development, as Deputy Head of Unit "Global issues and relations with ACP countries". Before joining the Commission, she worked in the private sector (agrifood company and the European woodworking industries as well as for the regional public Administration of Andalusia-Spain).